Aristotelian physics is a form of natural science described in the works of the Greek philosopher Aristotle (384-322 BCE). In his work Physics, Aristotle intended to establish general principles of change that govern all natural bodies, both living and inanimate, celestial and terrestrial - including all motion, change with respect to place ...

The Aristotelian physics
- Wikipedia - The
Chinese had a somewhat different series of elements, namely Fire, Earth, Metal (literally gold), Water and Wood, which were understood as different types of energy in a state of constant interaction and flux with one another, rather than the Western notion of different kinds of material. Sat, 05 May
